WILSON VOICES PROTEST.

Denounces Use of Foreign Relationship for Political Advantage.
Buffalo, Nov. 2.—President Wilson in his first speech in New York State since the campaign opened, yesterday questioned the patriotism of men "who in the midst of the most critical relationships, the details of which they do not know, make play with the loss of the lives of American citizens even, in order that they may create a domestic political advantage."

He declared that political parties should be used, but that partisan use should not be made of them.

"Out of the heterogeneous nation we have got to make a unit," said the President, "in which no slightest line of division is visible beyond our borders. Variety of opinion among ourselves there may be, discussion, free counsel as to what we ought to do, but as far as every other nation is concerned, we must be absolutely a unit."

"And I want to register my solemn protest here against the use of our foreign relationships for political advantage. I cannot, I will not, regard any man as a patriot who does that—men who in the midst of the most critical relationships the details of which they do not know, make play with the loss of lives of American citizens even, in order that they may create a domestic political advantage."

The President declared in his night speech that the United States is not afraid to fight and is not disinclined to fight for the objects for which it was founded. He opposed sectionalism and said the destinies of peace and war should not be used for partisan advantage.

Gen. Smith Bolling died last night at his home in Petersburg. He was 81 years old.

BREMEN COUNTED LOST.

Deutschland, in With $30,000,000 Cargo, Tells of Sister Ship's Fate.
New London, Nov. 2.—Ten million dollars' worth of dyestuffs and drugs, it was said, "possibly stocks, bonds and precious stones," comprise the cargo of the German submarine merchantman Deutschland, according to a statement by Capt. Paul Koenig, commander of the craft.

The Deutschland is in this port after having succeeded in making a second voyage from a German port to the American coast, despite the watchfulness of British and French war vessels.

First of the undersea merchantmen by use of which Germany hopes to keep open a trade route with the United States, the Deutschland, according to her captain, is at present the only vessel of that fleet. The Bremen, which started a voyage from the city after which she was named on August 26, he said, has been given up as lost. He thought she "must have struck a mine," but he added, "she has not fallen a victim to this almost blockade. I am sure of that."

The Amerika, which some reports have indicated was a merchant submarine captured by the British, never existed, Capt. Koenig, asserted.

In a summary of his voyage, just completed, Captain Koenig said this was "a quiet trip." Recital of its incidents however, developed matters of lively interest.

The Deutschland did not lie on the ocean floor this time as in the voyage which ended at Baltimore last July. The submarine instead varied the monotony of its sailing under water or on the surface with occasional dodges beneath vessels identified as warships of belligerent nationality, or thought to be seven times, Captain Koenig said, he maneuvered in this way. The last time was off Nantucket yesterday, when he sighted a four-funnel steamer and dived beneath her.

During the trip of 4,500 miles the Deutschland traveled under water less than 100 miles.

The Deutschland is shrouded in strict secrecy. The walls of the shed which houses her return cargo supposed to be rubber and nickel, form a protection at two sides. A fence surrounding a pontoon shuts off the entrance to the Thames river, and on the fourth side—the North German-

AUNT AND NEPHEW SHOT

Bodies Found Within Few Feet of Each Other in Woman's Home.
Frederick, Md., Nov. 2.—Lying in pools of blood within a few feet of each other, aunt and nephew, Mrs. Daisy Marshall, 30 years old, and Charles Michael, 25, were found dead last night by Catherine Marshall, 6-year-old daughter of the dead woman, upon her return from school to her home, near Legore, Md. On the floor between them was a .32 calibre revolver containing four exploded shells.

A bullet had entered the left breast of the woman, penetrating the heart. Michael had a bullet wound in the forehead and in the roof of the mouth.

Mystery surrounds the double tragedy. Michael, who was a laborer for James W. Legore, has been lodging with his aunt for three weeks. Mrs. Marshall has been separated for two years from her husband, Jesse Marshall, who is a resident of Rocky Ridge.

According to neighbors Michael returned to the Marshall home at noon yesterday. He failed to report for work this afternoon. At about 2 o'clock three revolver shots were heard by Henry Redmond, whose home is about 200 yards from the scene of the tragedy. He did not investigate and thought no more of the shooting until the bodies were found by the daughter.

Just before noon yesterday Mrs. Marshall called at the roadside store of the Rev. George Nichol for groceries. Later, it was reported, a man whom Michael is said to have disliked called on Mrs. Marshall. The nephew heard of it as he was returning from the Legore quarries at noon.

The theory is that Michael shot his aunt and then committed suicide.

MAN JUST GRAZED DEATH

Was Held Fast in Piling as the Tide Slowly Rose

Philadelphia, Nov. 2.—Pinned for two hours in the piling underneath Pier A, at the foot of Cambria street with the tide rising slowly around him, Nicholas Stokes, a grain picker employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad, had a narrow escape from death. Stokes slipped while walking along the edge of the wharf and fell into the water between a steamer tied up there and the pier. In some manner he was caught in the piling and his shouts attracted other workmen, who went to his assistance, but were unable to extricate him. They then summoned the police boat Stokley.

Meanwhile the tide was rising slowly, and when two hours after he fell Joseph Phillips, another workman, went into the river after him, the water was sweeping Stokes' lips. Phillips at last was successful, and Stokes was rushed to the Episcopal Hospital, where he was found to be suffering from exhaustion and exposure.
